To whom it may concern:

I am writing to recommend Donna Cori Gibson to you. We invited Donna to be a presenter at a Statewide gathering of women where the theme was "Proclaim the Gospel of Life as Women." Donna led the gathering by offering reflections on prayer, motherhood, and evangelization over the course of a long day. This is the third time I have had the opportunity to hear Donna speak and sing. Each time I left the gatherings feeling inspired, refreshed, and filled with the Spirit.

Donna has a beautiful singing voice and she shared many of her songs with us over the course of the day. Every time she sang she was praying words of Scripture or one of the Prayers of the Saints. Her melodies make it easy to remember the words and we often joined with her in singing prayer and praise. We prayed a Rosary, a Chaplet of Divine Mercy and other prayers with Donna as she led us in sung prayer.

But it wasn't just her singing that inspired me. She shared with us many stories of how she prays and encouraged us to look for ways to pray throughout the day. She shared with our group stories of her day to day struggles as a mother and told us how faith carries her through the day.

Donna is not an entertainer, she's an evangelist and she proclaims the Good News of Christ's presence in her life and encourages those who listen to her to follow Christ more closely. I have spoken with many of the women who attended this gathering and all of them reported that Donna had been an inspiration to them to be more joyful in the celebration of their faith. In my years as a priest I've heard a lot of evangelists and Donna is one of the best!

Sincerely,
